The content of the Path of Exile 4.0 is exposed, dark players look forward to full!

The upgrade and revision of the Path of Exile have caused more and more discussion among players. PoECurrency.com will also provide players with a large amount of POE Orbs to meet the needs of players and provide services promptly.

The version of Path of Exile 4.0 met with everyone on November 16th, which caused a lot of discussion and attention from players. The 4.0 version is not only a follow-up to the previous version. It can be said that the latest exposed version 4.0 has made great improvements in all aspects of the game, especially the main story of the player's attention.

At the Carnival of Path of Exile conference, producer Chris admitted that this 4.0 version was not considered to be the Path of Exile 2, but just because it was a sequel, it was a new mainline. Not only is it facing great challenges in time, but the content of The Path of Exile is already difficult to surpass. So The Path of Exile ended up missing a sequel and an extraversion.

It can be understood in the information sheet of the conference that the new version will tell the story of the restart in 7 new chapters. A brand new story takes place 20 years after the death of Kiefer. In the era when the gods have fallen, corruption has eroded the entire Valklas like a plague. Players will end all of this journey. Although it is a familiar scene and a familiar bridge, the character will experience a completely different story, and the player will also face new challenges. After watching these old players, are they both nervous and excited?

The forthcoming version 4.0 not only opens a new story but also adds a new skill system and a new sublimation profession to the game. It is worth mentioning that in the 4.0 version, a new game engine is used, and the screen will be more dark and gothic, but this is a test for everyone's computer configuration.

The expansion of POE is a long-term process. As the game continues to develop, your demand for micro-transactions will gradually increase, and PoECurrency.com as a poe's third-party transaction service platform will also improve its services. Go Buy POE Orbs now, if you are satisfied, give five-star praise and enjoy 8% discount code.
