CT8012-116 Air Jordan 11 “Cherry” Will Release December 10th

2020 Cheap Jordans, After many foreshadowing of renderings, this year’s most appealing new cherry red color matching Air Jordan 11 “Cherry” finally ushered in the physical exposure, so that we can have a sneak peek! The overall color scheme is similar to the low-top version that was first released in 2016, but the patent leather part is changed to the large patent leather setting that has been used in recent years, and the shoe body part is made of traditional nylon fabric. Different from the low-top upper, the lining is covered in red this time, the Jumpman Logo on the upper is also embellished with the same color, and the jelly outsole is the conventional light blue setting in recent years. For the specific appearance and upper foot effect, you can also refer to the previous low-cut version, and there is a general prediction. The bright white and red outfits complement each other with the gorgeous patent leather luster. Coupled with the festivals and holidays that come one after another at the end of the year, it is undoubtedly the most pleasing choice to wear. According to current news, the Air Jordan 11 “Cherry”, the finale of the year, will be released in full family sizes on December 10. New Jordan 2020, With the physical exposure of the “Cherry” Air Jordan 11, everyone has a preliminary impression of the first glimpse of the big devil at the end of the year, but as the weather is getting hotter, slippers are the main theme of the street! The black and red color matching Jordan Hydro 11 slippers are now available on SNKRS in the country. The overall tone perfectly restores the classic black and red dresses. The unique 23 elements of Air Jordan 11 are fully presented, which is quite suitable for summer wear. The soft textured insole and flexible sole are sure to be comfortable on your feet. New Jordan Release, Made of canvas and short-haired suede, with details of punching and circular stitching, it greatly enhances the look of this pair of shoes. Needless to say about the texture, the superimposed use of a variety of materials also adds a lot of layers to the sneakers. The shoelace hole part has also changed from the past, using a deconstruction method with exposed plastic parts, making this pair of shoes even more special. Gray with North Carolina blue embellishment makes the whole pair of shoes look quite fresh. If you like Air Jordan 2, this is definitely a must-have.
