Harold Koontz was born in 1909 and died in 1984. He was a business management professor at University of California, Los Angeles, and consultant for the largest business organizations in US. He formerly co-authored together with Heinz Weihrich the internationally acclaimed management textbook Management: A Global Perspective. 